Dear Client,

The global Coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak is dominating the headlines and is bound to do so for the immediate future, at least. It is adding another challenge to what people and businesses are already facing in this struggling South African economy.

Most South Africans are not in the position to go into isolation and wait out the worst of the virus, as we have seen being done in news reports from abroad. Apart from the people who need to keep generating an income, many small, medium – and even large businesses – are fighting for sustainability. The added strain of this outbreak will further test the mettle of South Africans... but we are committed to going the distance with our customers, partners, and employees.

FCS GROUP is monitoring the situation closely, to ensure that we keep providing quality products and differentiated services to our customers, while at the same time, ensuring the well-being of our employees, as well as the people who interact with us.

We do believe that it is only through working together as a team that we will win on the shop floors, on construction sites, in boardrooms, in business and most importantly, in our communities.

People are at the heart of our business and we are sure many of our customers feel the same. We sincerely hope you, your loved-ones, friends and colleagues, remain safe and healthy.

We will be continuously monitoring developments of COVID-19. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to reach out and speak to us. During this time, let us arm ourselves with knowledge and make it our business to PROTECT OURSELVES AND OTHERS.

Warm regards,

From:
